The wine of Ferruccio Lamborghini: The ‘blood’ of the Miura

Lead

Tractor manufacturer and supercar maker Ferruccio Lamborghini is less well known for another passion, his enthusiasm for agriculture – in particular, viniculture and the production of wine.

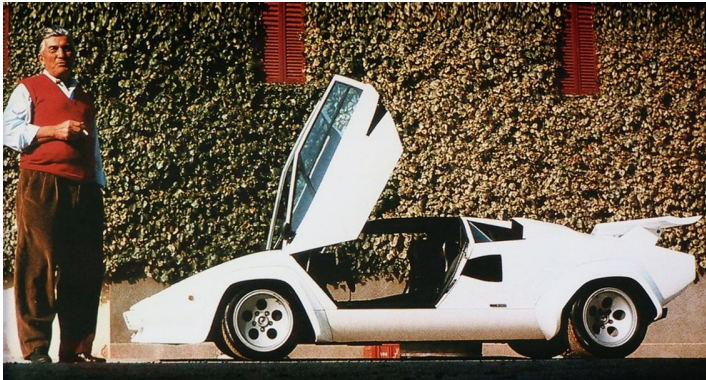

Its most famous label is ‘Sangue di Miura’ – ‘Blood of the Bull’

He was born into a wine-making family and, in 1993, having sold his beloved car company some decades earlier, returned to his roots spending his final years supervising the ‘La Fiorita’ estate, by Lake Trasimeno in Umbria.

Its most famous label is ‘Sangue di Miura’ – ‘Blood of the Bull’, a classic reference to Automobili Lamborghini’s most famous supercar.
